The citations were collected from Catholic dioceses in the United States during the second quarter of 2015.
Faith and Morals Language in Catholic School Teacher Employment Documents:

A Compilation from Diocesan Statements, Handbooks and Contracts

by Denise Donohue, Ed.D., and Dan Guernsey, Ed.D.

Introduction

This compilation is a companion to the Cardinal Newman Society’s analysis, Faith and Morals Language in Catholic School Teacher Employment Documents: Best Practices Brief. It provides additional source material for the reader to consider when researching and reviewing faith and morals clauses in diocesan employment documents for Catholic school teachers.

Diocesan policies and statements regarding teachers were collected in the second quarter of 2015 primarily from documents publicly available on the Internet, and in some cases by direct contact with a diocese. This compilation reflects materials from more than 125 dioceses. If a diocese is not included in this sample, it does not necessarily mean that the diocese does not address faith and moral issues in its employment documents, but only reflects our inability to obtain such documents. An additional thirty-four dioceses, not represented in this compilation, have faith and morals statements referenced in their “Safe Environment” policies. As these are relatively generic statements clarifying that employees and volunteers must reflect Catholic teaching and morality in their work and in their interactions with others, only a few examples of this type are presented. Those dioceses that are not fully represented in this compilation, have revised the cited documents, or have created new documents are invited to share their corrections, updates, or additions by contacting ddonohue@cardinalnewmansociety.org.

The following excerpts have been taken from longer documents and formatted for consistency. Because referenced documents are likely to change over time, direct contact with a diocese is the only way to ensure up-to-date accuracy.

The Cardinal Newman Society’s researchers are currently using this collection in forthcoming research on this topic. The hope is that by making this raw, compiled data readily available to Church officials, it might prove helpful for them as they evaluate their own practices. This document is not presented as legal advice. Catholic school leaders are encouraged to speak with each other and with their attorneys about their approaches to critical employment issues. As a corollary to this piece, the Newman Society has published a comprehensive overview of the Magisterium’s expectations of its Catholic teachers, The Call to Teach: Expectations for Catholic Educators in Magisterial Teaching.

The sections herein mirror the section dividers for the companion piece, Faith and Morals Language in Catholic School Teacher Employment Documents: Best Practices Brief, as follows:
I. Pre-Application and Application Statements

Diocese of Arlington\(^1\) Application Attestation

The Catholic Diocese of Arlington, an equal opportunity employer, does not—because of race, color, creed, religion, ancestry, age, sex, marital status, national origin, physical or mental disability or handicap, or veteran status—fail or refuse to hire qualified applicants. The Diocese reserves the right, however, to determine whether and under what circumstances priority should be given to Catholics for certain employment positions. In addition, for Catholic employees, conformance with religious tenets of the Catholic faith is a condition of employment, and all employees are prohibited from performing, teaching, or advocating any practices or doctrines which are inconsistent with religious tenets of the Catholic faith.

Diocese of Evansville\(^2\) Teacher Application

Please read carefully: The Catholic Diocese of Evansville is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate or deny services on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, or age. Because of their participation in teaching the religious precepts of the Catholic Church and duty to serve as role models for their students, teachers in the schools of the Catholic Diocese of Evansville are required to maintain a lifestyle, including marital status, in harmony with the teachings of the faith of the Catholic Church. For example, if an applicant for a teaching position is living in a marriage that is not recognized as valid according to the law of the Church, that applicant will not be hired before the prior marriage has been declare null or dissolved so that the present marriage can be validated in accord with Church law. These provisions also apply to one’s present spouse. If a teacher already employed by the Diocese attempts a marriage or enters a lifestyle that cannot be recognized as valid according to Church law, he or she will be terminated. Teachers are expected by their actions to be a Catholic example to students including demonstrating their faith as practicing Catholic (which includes regular Catholic Church attendance). Catholic teachers, who renounce by their word or acts the teachings of the Catholic Church (including, for example, becoming a member of another church) will be subject to termination for cause or non-renewal of contract for the next school year. The requirement that a teacher’s marital status be in harmony with the teaching and faith of the Church applies to non-Catholic as well as Catholic. The Church recognizes a first marriage of two persons who are not Catholic and the presumption of validity applies to the first marriage until the contrary is proven. The prior valid bond is a natural law impediment and would render a subsequent marriage invalid according to the law of the Catholic Church.

\(^1\) https://www.arlingtondiocese.org/catholicschools/application.aspx

Diocese of Ogdensburg3 Application Attestation

I recognize that this position involves ministry in the Roman Catholic Church and requires me to proclaim the Gospel and the authentic teaching of the Roman Catholic Church. This ministry and proclamation requires my own faithful witness to the Gospel and teachings of the Church. In particular, I understand and accept that by my own example and lifestyle I must be faithful to the Church’s teachings. Accordingly, I promise to fulfill the functions of the position faithfully according to the manner determined by law, Diocesan policy or by the Bishop and to model my own life according to the Gospel and teachings of the Church. Specifically, I uphold and will continue to affirm the Church’s teaching that God’s gift of sexuality is sacred and finds its proper context within the Sacrament of Marriage, as defined by Gospel and the Roman Catholic Church as being a union between one man and one woman.

Diocese of Orange4 Teacher Application

Every Catholic School teacher or principal is expected to be a strong faith witness and a teacher of the Catholic tradition. It is expected that they conduct themselves in a manner that reflects a strong commitment to the mission of Jesus Christ and to the Diocese of Orange. It is required that every teacher or principal obtains and maintains certification as a catechist through the Institute for Pastoral Ministry sponsored by the Diocese. If certification is not been obtained prior to employment, it must be completed within three years.

Employment/Ministry in the Church Pre-Application Statement

“Go out to the whole world and proclaim the Good News to all creation.”

(Mark 16:15)

Mission Statement of the Diocese of Sacramento

We, the People of God of the Catholic Diocese of Sacramento, guided by the Holy Spirit, are called by Christ to proclaim the Good News of the Kingdom of God through prayer, praise and sacraments and to witness the Gospel values of love, justice, forgiveness and service to all.

All Christ’s faithful, by virtue of their baptism, are called by God to contribute to the sanctification and transformation of the world. They do this by fulfilling their own particular duties in the spirit of the Gospel and Christian discipleship. Working in the Church is a path of Christian discipleship to be encouraged. Those who work for the Church continue the mission and ministry of Christ. Their service is unique and necessary for the life and growth of the Church. This has been our tradition from the beginning, as echoed in the words of St. Paul who worked with and relied on other men and women in the work of spreading the Gospel. St. Paul was known to acknowledge and thank them, at times calling them, “my co-workers in Christ Jesus” (Romans 16:3-16).

The Church needs the services of dedicated lay persons who have a clear knowledge and proper understanding of the teachings of the Church and a firm adherence to those teachings, and whose words and deeds are in conformity with the Gospel. All who seek employment or ministry in the Church are expected to continue their formation and their willingness to learn and grow and to deepen their desire to serve the Lord with excellence and generosity. Those employed by the Church in our Catholic schools, parishes and institutions, as coworkers in the vineyard of the Lord, are rightly expected to be practicing Catholics whose faith is an essential part of their daily lives and who participate fully in the communal worship and life of the Church.

We recognize that persons who are non-Catholic Christians are also called by the Lord to stand before the world as a witness to his life and resurrection. We, therefore, welcome collaboration with such persons of good faith who share our Catholic vision on important social, moral and ethical issues. It is important for anyone interested in collaborating with us in our work and ministry to have an understanding of the Catholic Church and her teachings.

http://www.diocese-sacramento.org/diocese/lay_personnel/PDFs/Pre-ApplicationStatementandQuestionnaire.pdf
Our Catholic religious beliefs provide the basic framework for our moral, ethical and social teachings. It is important for anyone interested in collaborating with us in our work and ministry to have an understanding of these teachings.

The Catholic Church has a special commitment to the poor, the oppressed, and the immigrant. We are committed to promoting a “Culture of Life” from the moment of conception to the moment of natural death. We believe in the inherent dignity of the human person, created in the image and likeness of God, and possessing basic rights endowed by God, including the right to life, the right to religious liberty, and the right to be treated justly with dignity and respect. We believe human sexuality and human procreation are gifts from God to be shared through the risen Christ only by those joined in marriage, an institution that is itself instituted by Almighty God. We believe that all persons are called by God to live chaste lives by virtue of their own dignity and according to their state of life. We believe in the rights of workers to just working conditions, just wages and benefits, as well as the right to organize and join unions or other associations. We oppose all forms of oppression and exploitation, including racism, sexism, pornography, sexual abuse and harassment, and unlawful discrimination.

As a community of believers, we embrace as a matter of faith, the teachings, policies and beliefs of the Magisterium of the Catholic Church, as defined in the Deposit of Faith. We, therefore, reject anything which is contrary to that teaching, including:

• Abortion, euthanasia, assisted suicide, artificial contraception, voluntary sterilization, and the unnecessary use of capital punishment;

• Pornography and obscenity, adultery, cohabiting in sexual relationships of any nature outside of marriage, homosexual activity, the notion of “gay marriage,” and the adoption or placement of children in anything other than a traditional family setting;

• Secularism, the paring back of religious freedom rights, or the restriction of religious liberty and liberty of conscience, anti-Catholicism, or anti-Catholic biases;

• The abuse of alcohol or the use of illegal narcotics or other controlled substances; and

• Violence or the use of force to resolve social, political or religious problems.

Must the Church’s employees share the Church’s vision and witness the Catholic faith in their life and work?

Yes. Every member of the Church must stand before the world as a witness to the life and resurrection of the Lord Jesus. This is particularly important for those person who work and minister in the name of the Church. In our daily affairs and our work, we, as faithful disciples of the risen Christ, must be guided by a Christian conscience, since even in secular business there is no human activity that can be withdrawn from God’s dominion.

The Diocese, in its role as an employer, expects all employees to be persons, who by word and deed, support and advocate the positions of the Catholic Church. We understand that employment by the Roman Catholic Church is not for everyone, because there are people of good faith who disagree with our teachings and views.

Those unable to authentically witness the Catholic faith by their lives may wish to reflect and seek pastoral guidance before applying for employment or ministry in the Church.

Does the obligation to share the Church’s vision also pertain to employees who are not Catholic?

Yes. As Catholics, we believe that our Faith is universal — that’s what the word “Catholic” means. Thus, even if a person is not Catholic he or she remains called by the Lord to stand before the world as a witness to Christ’s life and resurrection. Persons whose lives do not witness the teachings of the Catholic faith by virtue of their own objections or disbelief, or are unable to witness the Catholic faith by virtue of their lifestyle choices or public conduct, do not meet the basic criteria to work or minister in the name of the Church.

After you have carefully reflected on what is contained in this Pre-Application Statement, we invite you to complete the Acknowledgement and Applicant Questionnaire, if you are interested in seeking employment with the Diocese of Sacramento.

Acknowledgment

By signing below, I hereby acknowledge that I have received and read the foregoing Pre-Application Statement of the Diocese of Sacramento. After reading and reflecting upon the teachings and beliefs of the Catholic Church, and the manner in which those matters impact lay employees of the Diocese, I wish to apply for employment with the Diocese, with a full understanding of the religious nature of the Diocese as an employer. I understand the Diocese’s expectations that if my application for lay employment results in my being hired, I will be subject to standards of conduct that incorporate the teachings and beliefs of the Catholic Church as set forth in the Pre-Application Statement, and that these performance expectations will be a material condition of my employment.

To be employed by the Church, persons of good faith who are not Catholic must have an understanding of the Catholic Church and her teachings and respect the Catholic vision on important social, moral and ethical issues.

The Catholic Church has a special commitment to the poor, the oppressed and the immigrant. It is committed to promoting a “Culture of Life” from the moment of conception to the moment of natural death. It believes in the inherent dignity of the human person, created in the image and likeness of God, and possessing basic rights endowed by God, including the right to life, the right to religious liberty, and the right to be treated justly with dignity and respect. It believes that conjugal love and human procreation are gifts from God to be shared only by those joined in marriage as established by God himself. It believes that all persons are called by God to live chaste lives by virtue of their own dignity and according to their state of life. It believes in the rights of workers to just working conditions, to just wages and benefits as well as the right to organize to their benefit. It opposes all forms of oppression and exploitation, including racism, sexism, pornography, sexual abuse and harassment, and unlawful discrimination.

The Catholic Church embraces everything contained in God’s word, written or handed down in Sacred Tradition and proposed as divinely revealed and calling for faith and, as well, all authoritative teaching on faith and morals. It rejects anything to the contrary, including:

- Abortion, euthanasia, assisted suicide, and the unnecessary use of capital punishment;
- Pornography and obscenity, adultery, cohabiting in sexual relationships of any nature outside of marriage and homosexual activity;
- Any restriction of religious liberty;
- Violence or the use of force to resolve social, political or religious problems.

Persons who do not respect the teachings of the Church, either by virtue of their own objections or disbelief, or by virtue of their lifestyle choices or public conduct, do not meet the basic criteria to work in the Church.

Statement on the Purpose of Catholic Schools and the Role of Teachers and Administrators in Catholic Schools

By the Most Reverend Richard G. Lennon

Dear Administrators and Teachers,

The Catholic Church teaches that Catholic schools are more than just places of learning, but in fact serve the primary purpose of developing each student as a whole person based on the model of Christ, who is God made flesh and humanity perfected. The Second Vatican Council’s Declaration on Christian Education, Gravissimum Educationis, said as much when it stated:

“The Church is bound as a mother to give to these children of hers an education by which their whole life can be imbued with the spirit of Christ and at the same time do all she can to promote for all peoples the complete perfection of the human person, the good of earthly society and the building of a world that is more human.” Gravissimum Educationis, Section 3.

This teaching is reflected in numerous Church documents as well as the Code of Canon Law, which states in Canon 794 Sec. 1 that, “The Church has in a special way the duty and the right of educating, for it has a divine mission of helping all to arrive at the fullness of Christian life.” Saint John Paul II gave witness to this core belief regarding the nature and purpose of Catholic schools in his 1979 message to the National Catholic Education Association of the United States, wherein he wrote: “Catholic education is above all a question of communicating Christ, of helping to form Christ in the lives of others.”

As such, it is clear that the effectiveness of a Catholic school in fulfilling its mission is not simply dependent upon the quality of the religious curriculum utilized or the religious instruction or catechesis that occurs there. Instead, a Catholic school succeeds in its mission only if every aspect of the school is inspired and guided by the Gospel and only if instruction across the entire spectrum of studies is authentically Catholic. As Archbishop J. Michael Miller, C.S.B., then Secretary for the Holy See’s Congregation for Catholic Education, rightly observed in his 2005 keynote address on the subject of the Holy See’s teachings on Catholic schools at a conference at the Catholic University of America:

“The Gospel of Christ and his very person are, therefore, to inspire and guide the Catholic school in its every dimension: its philosophy of education, its

7 http://www.cleveland.com/metro/index.ssf/2014/05/cleveland_dioece_has_more_exp.html curriculum, community of life, its selection of teachers, and even its physical environment.”

Likewise, the Church has long recognized the uniquely important and true ministry of teachers and administrators in fulfilling this mission. Gravissimum Educationis addressed this notion specifically when it stated:

“But let teachers recognize that the Catholic school depends upon them almost entirely for the accomplishment of its goals and programs. They should therefore be very carefully prepared so that both in secular and religious knowledge they are equipped with suitable qualification and also with a pedagogical skill that is in keeping with the findings of the contemporary world. Intimately linked in charity to one another and to their students and endowed with an apostolic spirit, may teachers by their life as much as by their instruction bear witness to Christ, the unique Teacher… The work of these teachers, this sacred synod declares, is in the real sense of the word an apostolate most suited to and necessary for our times and at once a true service offered to society.” Gravissimum Educationis, Section 8 [emphasis added].

Furthermore, the example set by teachers and administrators through their actions and their lives is considered by the Church to be even more important than what they say. As stated by the Sacred Congregation for Catholic Education:

“The more completely an educator can give concrete witness to the model of the ideal person that is being presented to the students, the more this ideal will be believed and imitated. For it will then be seen as something reasonable and worthy of being lived, something concrete and realizable. It is in this context that the faith witness of the lay teacher becomes especially important. Students should see in their teachers the Christian attitude and behavior that is often so conspicuously absent from the secular atmosphere in which they live.” Lay Catholics in Schools, Witnesses to Faith, Section 32.

Consequently, each and every teacher and administrator in a Catholic school, whether they teach religion as a subject or not, is called by the Church to model Jesus Christ, the perfect teacher, and to bear witness to the Gospel “through their lives as much as by their instructions” (Gravissimum Educationis, Section 8). It is for this reason that Canon 803 Section 2 of the Code of Canon Law requires that, “Formation and education in a Catholic school must be based on the principles of Catholic doctrine, and the teachers must be outstanding in true doctrine and uprightness of life.”

As a teacher or administrator in a Catholic school, you are engaging a beautiful and uniquely important vocation and ministry of Christ’s Church. You are instrumental in the development of each and every student as a whole and authentically Catholic person. Indeed, it is primarily through you that the school is able to cultivate the love of Christ and kindle the light of Christ in the hearts of its students. As such, it is a great honor and privilege to play such a special and important role in the life of the Church through your ministry. It is also a significant responsibility. Code of Ethics for the Teacher in a Catholic School “GO TEACH!” With these words, Christ sent His first disciples on mission. Since the beginning of Christianity, Catholic education has been one of the most important ways in which the mission of the Church is carried out. This education manifests a foundational anthropology, a basics sense of the human being, namely (that) all persons are created in the image and likeness of God, are fallen in view of original sin, and are redeemed by Jesus Christ. To understand, to teach and to model this anthropology are particular requirements of those entrusted with the Church’s educational mission. Thus, in large part the success of Catholic education depends upon the professional competence, quality, and above all, the commitment of the teacher to Christ.

PREAMBLE

The Code of Ethics for the Teacher in a Catholic School is a description of a person who is growing in various dimensions of experience. The Code specifies the attitude and the practice of the teacher in relation to the Church, the student, the parent, the community, and the profession. In relationship to the Church in particular, the teacher is not called to an unrealistic perfection but rather to continual growth in understanding and in appreciation for the Church in all Her dimensions. Here, what is meant by ‘continual growth’ also includes ongoing spiritual conversion (i.e., a more complete turning toward God) in one’s soul. This kind of conversion can include a humble acceptance of the standing offer of God’s mercy, which acceptance always moves a person deeper into the heart of the Church. In any case, conversion is like ‘professional development’. That is, just as every teacher recognizes a responsibility to grow so as to keep abreast of developments in the profession, so too the teacher in a Catholic school recognizes a responsibility to grow in efficacy regarding the Church. In sum, whether personally or professionally, the Code of Ethics for the Teacher in a Catholic School represents a guide by which to live, a goal toward which to strive and a promise of lasting success.

The Diocese of Santa Rosa recognizes and claims its Catholic Elementary and High Schools as educational institutes established to promote and foster the teachings and values of the Catholic Church. The Diocese recognizes that these Institutions have an integral and significant role in the positive presentation of the Catholic faith to the hearts of their students and to our society. The primary purpose of our Schools, without minimizing others, is evangelization. Catholic Schools, in the course of their educational efforts, provide an essentially ecclesiastical ministry. “The duty and right of educating belongs in a unique way to the Church which has been divinely entrusted with the mission to assist men and women so that they can arrive at the fullness of the Christian life” (Canon 794, § 1).

8 Provided by Diocesan personnel 5/5/15
Preamble by +Robert F. Vasa, Bishop of Santa Rosa

Principle I: Commitment to the Church

Presidents, principals and teachers are employed, either directly or indirectly, by the Catholic Church for the express purpose of assisting “men and women so that they can arrive at the fullness of the Christian life”. Thus, in addition to specific employee duties, they also share in the mission of the Church and therefore have the responsibility of fostering through their positions and in the lived reality of their lives—the values, principles, doctrines and teachings of the institutional Catholic Church or, at least, of never publicly contradicting them. In fulfilling our obligation to the Church, we are called to:

1. Recognize that we are part of the overall educational ministry of the Catholic Church even when some of the persons instructed are not adherents of the Catholic faith.

2. Recognize that as human beings, we are called by God to a life of holiness. We recognize that, without diminishing our freedom, this call orients us to heed God in our thoughts, words and deeds. We further recognize that this call is all the more compelling for us since, in our lives and vocations as teacher/administrators in a Catholic school, we have been entrusted with the task of helping students “arrive at the fullness of the Christian life” (Canon 794, § 1).

3. Recognize that we must be models of “exemplary life both personally and professionally” (cf. employment contract). Thus, whether we are at school or outside of school, our public behavior is to be in conformity with Church teaching as expounded in The Catechism of the Catholic Church.

4. Recognize our duty, to the best of our ability, to know “Church Teaching” (cf. contract) and, if Catholic, to believe in accord with what the Catholic Church holds and professes.

5. Recognize that we have a responsibility to continue to seek a fuller understanding of the Faith that the Catholic Church professes. Accordingly, we are to take advantage of opportunities offered by the Diocese or Parish to foster Faith, to properly form conscience and to deepen understanding of the Church’s teaching.

6. Recognize that, in its entirety, The Catechism of the Catholic Church constitutes the source and standard according to which all the ethical matters stated or implied in this Commitment and in the contract are understood and adjudicated.

Catholic Moral Standards for All Catholic School Employees and Volunteers

A signature is required below to acknowledge that the Catholic school employee (teacher, support staff, coach, etc.), or volunteer has read and understands the Catholic Moral Standards as an essential expectation to his/her position with the Catholic school.

As a Catholic school employee or volunteer, I understand …

_____ that I will not engage in any conduct or lifestyle, whether in my personal or public life, that would be at variance with or contrary to the moral and religious teachings of the Roman Catholic Church

_____ that I will not engage in any conduct or lifestyle, whether in my personal or public life, that would be at variance with or contrary to the moral and religious standards as described in Catholic school polices, Diocesan policies, or my employment contract

Please Note: These standards have been and will continue to be printed in the Catholic Schools’ personnel handbooks, as well as on the teacher’s contract.

I understand the terms of the Catholic Moral Standards and recognize that any personal conduct or lifestyle (public or private) that violates the Catholic moral standards may result in personnel discipline up to and including dismissal from employment.

I also understand that if I have any questions regarding the Catholic Moral Standards, I will submit them to the school administration, in writing and the school administration will provide a response in a timely manner.

Adherence to Catholic Church Teachings

All school personnel who serve in Catholic schools shall be examples of Catholic moral behavior and professionalism. As explained by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops:

The integration of religious truth and values with the rest of life is brought about in the Catholic school not only by its unique curriculum but, more important, by the presence of teachers [personnel] who express an integrated approach to learning and living in their private and professional lives.

9 http://www.montanacatholicschools.org/wp-content/uploads/2015/03/Faculty-application.pdf
All school personnel, regardless of their religious affiliation, are therefore required to abide by the moral values advanced by the teachings of Christ, the tenets of the Catholic Church, and the policies and regulations of the Diocesan Department for Education, the Diocese and the employing school. School personnel may be disciplined or terminated for violations of these standards, or any conduct which is contrary to, or rejects or offends the teachings, doctrines, or principles of the Catholic Church. While there may be others not mentioned below, examples of conduct that may result in termination of employment include:

- Public support of activities or beliefs contrary to Catholic Church teaching;
- Public statements disparaging or causing contempt against religion in general or the Catholic Church in particular;
- Entry into a marriage which is not recognized by the Catholic Church;
- Having an abortion or publically supporting abortion rights;
- Sexual relations (same or opposite sex) outside the institution of marriage as recognized by the Catholic Church;
- Pursuing or publically supporting in vitro fertilization.

Diocesan Department for Education policies and regulations are available online at www.cdeducation.org/Policies. The teachings of the Catholic Church can be found in The Catechism of the Catholic Church which is online at www.vatican.va/archive/Eng0015/_INDEX.

Witness Statement for Those Who Serve in Catholic Education

The mission of Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit is the mission of the Catholic Church, to reveal God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit to all people and to teach them about the fullness of His love. “Indeed the primordial mission of the Church is to proclaim God and to be His witness before the world” (GDC). Catholic education shares in a special way in the Church’s mission by proclaiming and witnessing Jesus Christ and His teachings.

Catholic education, which includes education, formation, and transformation, exists in order to evangelize. Two important elements that make up the process of evangelization are proclamation and witness. It is essential, therefore, that those who serve in Catholic education proclaim Jesus Christ, His life and ministry, present the Catholic faith in its fullness and be Christ’s witness to the world.

Initially those being evangelized will be attracted to and listen to those who are good witnesses. “The Good News proclaimed by the witness of life sooner or later has to be proclaimed by the word of life” (Evangelii Nuntiandi). Some in Catholic education—religion teachers, PSR catechists, educational and catechetical leaders—are called to be explicit proclaimers of the Word. But all who serve in Catholic education are called to be witnesses to the life and teachings of Jesus Christ and the Catholic Church. Therefore, the following Witness Statement applies to all who serve in Catholic education.

All who serve in Catholic education in the parish and school programs of the Archdiocese of Saint Louis will witness by their public behavior, actions, and words a life consistent with the teachings of the Catholic Church.

Only those persons who can support this Witness Statement are to be employed by pastors, principals, and directors/coordinators of religious education.

All who serve in Catholic education in the Archdiocese of Saint Louis should be made aware that support of this Witness Statement must be reflected in their public behavior.

All who serve in Catholic education should:

- believe in God
- support belief in Jesus Christ
- engage in prayer
- respect ecclesiastical authority
- possess a basic knowledge of the Catholic Church
- not take a public position contrary to the Catholic Church
- demonstrate a public life consistent with the teachings of the Catholic Church
- practice respect and reverence for others and prudence with regard to confidential information related to work
- if Catholic, have not publicly rejected the Catholic Church be active members of the Catholic Church, or of their own Church
- if not Catholic practice exemplary stewardship and ethical behavior with regard to Church property and funds.

The above is a thorough but not all-inclusive listing of the implications of this Witness Statement.
Implementation of the Witness Statement by Local Parishes and Schools

All who serve in Catholic education should be provided with opportunities to have the basic and essential teachings of the Catholic Church, applicable to the Witness Statement and its implications, explained so that they may be open to an understanding and appreciation of them.

This Witness Statement and its implications should be used in interviewing and hiring applicants who will serve in Catholic education to determine their openness to its message.

The pastor, principal, president, and director/coordinator of religious education should use this Witness Statement and its implications as part of the discussions in the initial offering and renewal of contracts.

This Witness Statement and its implications should be included in the various publications of the parish and/or the educational institution: faculty handbook, student handbook, marketing brochures, policy statements, etc.

Reflection on and discussion of this Witness Statement and its implications should be integrated by the pastor, principal, and director/coordinator of religious education into appropriate gatherings of those who serve in Catholic education: commissioning services, faculty meetings, faculty homilies, prayer days, etc.

CHRISTIAN WITNESS STATEMENT

Educational Mission of the Church: ‘Proclaiming the Gospel is a perennial task and joy for the Church of Jesus Christ. Catholic education is an expression of the mission entrusted by Jesus to the Church He Founded.’ (To Teach as Jesus Did, 6.7).

Pre-Eminence of Catholic Schools: ‘The Catholic school strives to relate all human culture to the news of salvation, so that the life of faith will illumine the knowledge which students gain of the world, of life and of humanity. (National Directory for Catechesis, 232).

Educator in the Catholic School: ‘Beautiful indeed and of great importance is the vocation of all those who undertake the task of education in Catholic schools. This vocation demands special qualities of mind and heart, very careful preparations, and continuing readiness to renew and to adapt.’ (Declaration on Christian Education, 4).

The Catholic school fulfills an authentic ministry. Therefore, to work in this apostolate means rendering a unique, challenging and invaluable work for the Church. The nobility of the position to which teachers in the Catholic school...respond requires that they communicate the message of Christ not only in their teaching and their participation in the sacramental life of the Church but also in every expression of their behavior. In truth and in fact, herein lies the difference between a school whose education is penetrated by the Christian spirit and one in which religious in an academic subject like any other. ‘By their witness and their behavior teachers are the first importance to impart a distinctive character to Catholic schools.’ (The Catholic School, 78).

It follows then, that the teacher in Catholic education must be a person of prayer, one who frequently reflects on the scriptures, and whose Christ-like living testifies to deep faith, and who is a practicing Catholic who understands and accepts the teaching of the Catholic Church and the moral demands of the Gospel and who can contribute to the achievement of the school’s Catholic Identity and apostolic goals. (National Catechetical Directory, 207, 231).

Essentially, the Catholic school educator is one:

- Called to proclaim, to live, to celebrate the message of Christ in His Gospel.
- Chosen to create, to enter into and to build community that is at the heart of Christian education
- Committed to the growth, development, and well-being of one’s educational family in the form of serve and love.

This individual truly witnesses to and fully shares in the mission of Christ and His Church in bringing about the Kingdom of God.

d. Belief Statements/Oaths

Profession of Faith

(For newly hired Catholics in schools, catechetical or youth leadership positions)

I, N., with firm faith believe and profess each and every thing that is contained in the symbol of faith, namely:

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

With firm faith I also believe everything contained in God’s word, written or handed down in tradition and proposed by the Church, whether by way of solemn judgment or through the ordinary and universal magisterium, as divinely revealed and calling for faith.

I also firmly accept and hold each and every thing that is proposed definitively by the Church regarding teaching on faith and morals.

Moreover, I shall always teach in the accord with the Official Magisterium of the Church as it is proclaimed by the Pope and the College of Bishops.

Profession of Faith

(For newly hired Non-Catholics in schools)

I accept and hold each and every thing that is proposed definitively by the Catholic Church regarding teaching on faith and morals.

I shall always teach in accord with the official teachings of the Church as it is proclaimed by the Pope and the College of Bishops.

b. Specific Language within Employment Documents

Archdiocese of Atlanta\(^\text{36}\) (Policy Manual)

The Christian dimension and the teacher’s role in promoting it are to be given priority when interviewing and making employment decisions. “All members of the faculty, at least by their example, are an integral part of the process of religious education. …Teachers’ life style and character are as important as their professional credentials.” (National Directory for Catechesis)... They must be persons whose attitudes and values are consistent with the Catholic philosophy of education. Each prospective teacher, regardless of religious affiliation, shall accept responsibilities in the educational ministry of the Archdiocese of Atlanta. The professional character of the responsibilities accepted by the teacher includes responsibilities to the Christian community served by the school, and above all, to the students attending the school and their parents. This responsibility requires the teacher’s personal life to be conducted in accordance with the teachings and principles of the Catholic Church and in such a manner as to set a proper example for students; employees who choose to lead their lives outside of the teachings of the Catholic Church jeopardize continued employment with Archdiocesan schools.

Diocese of Austin\(^\text{37}\) (Statement in Letter of Acknowledgement for Employees)

a. Employees must agree to adhere to the social, ethical and moral teachings of the Roman Catholic Church, and conform their professional and personal conduct to those teachings.

Job Description of Principal: a. Ministerial Character - The principal is the visible principle and foundation of unity in the school which the Bishop has entrusted to the principal. The principal makes Christ’s mission present and enduring in the school. In order to fulfill the principal’s mission, the principal employs suitable, chosen collaborators (clerics, religious, or lay people). The principal shares with them the principal’s mission and entrusts various responsibilities to them. Positions employed in the school help to extend the ministry of the principal in particular ways as outlined in the job description. Therefore, the employee in this position is closely connected to and assists the principal in the performance of the principal’s ministry and thereby engages in ministry for the church.

Teacher-Minister agrees to comply with all policies, handbooks, rules and regulations of the School and of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati. Teacher-Minister also agrees to exemplify Catholic principles in a manner consistent with Teacher-Minister’s relationship with the Catholic Church and to refrain from any conduct or lifestyle which would reflect discredit on or cause scandal to the school or be in contradiction to Catholic social doctrine or morals. While not meaning to infer that Teacher-Minister is involved in such conduct or lifestyle, by way of example, such conduct or lifestyle that is in contradiction to Catholic social doctrine or morals includes, but is not limited to: cohabitation outside marriage; sexual activity out of wedlock; same-sex sexual activity; use of abortion; use of a surrogate mother; use of in vitro fertilization or artificial insemination; advocacy (defined as presenting or promoting as acceptable for conduct, lifestyle, positions, policies, programs, causes or movements in contradiction to Catholic social doctrine or morals; and/or flagrant deceit or dishonesty. Teacher-Minister further agrees to teach and act consistently in accordance with the mission statement of the School and to strive to aid in the formation of students by personal witness so far as conscience allows to the stated philosophy and teachings of the Roman Catholic Church (these can be found in the Catechism of the Catholic Church, http://www.vatican.va/archive/ENG0015/_INDEX.HTM, which is incorporated herein by reference).

(see also Bishops’ Statements)

Role as Minister and Role Model of the Faith. The Teacher-Minister, in signing this Agreement, represents that he/she has read and understands the Statement on the purpose of Catholic Schools and the Role of Teachers and Administrators in Catholic Schools by the Bishop of the Diocese of Cleveland, which is attached to this Agreement as Exhibit A and incorporated into this Agreement by this reference. The Teacher-Minister understands and acknowledges that the Roman Catholic Church views the primary purpose of a Catholic school as a means of building up the Kingdom of God through the holistic and authentically Catholic formation of each student and that such development can only truly be fostered in a wholly Catholic environment. The Teacher-Minister further understands and acknowledges that it is the teaching of the Roman Catholic Church that teachers in a Catholic school are truly and in a very real sense engaged in a special ministry, or apostolate, of the Roman Catholic Church and that such teachers should bear witness to Christ in their lives as much as in their classroom instruction. For this reason, Canon 803 of the Code of Canon Law requires that teachers of a Catholic school must be “outstanding in true doctrine and uprightness of life.” As such, the Teacher-Minister agrees to act, speak, and live at all times in a manner consistent with the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church as expressed by the Magisterium of the Church including, without limitation, as found in the Catechism of the Roman Catholic Church, which is available online at http://www.vatican.va/archive/ENG0015/_INDEX.HTM and which is incorporated into this Agreement by this reference. The Teacher-Minister understands that actions and speech that are contrary to Catholic teaching shall be grounds for disciplinary action up to and including termination. The following, although in no way an exclusive list, represents by way of example certain speech or actions that are considered to be contrary to the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church:

a. Public support of positions contrary to Roman Catholic Church teaching (including, but not limited to, publically supporting abortion, euthanasia, assisted suicide, embryonic stem cell research, in vitro fertilization, artificial insemination, surrogate parenthood, direct sterilization, or so-called homosexual or same-sex marriage or unions).

b. Procuring or assisting another in procuring an abortion.

c. Making use of or participating in artificial insemination, in-vitro fertilization, or surrogate parenthood.

d. Preparing for or engaging in a same-sex marriage or union.

e. Engaging in or publicly supporting sexual relations outside or marriage (which shall be understood for purposes of the Agreement as being the marriage between one man and one woman).

f. Living with another as husband or wife without the benefit of a marriage recognized as valid by the Roman Catholic Church or cohabitating outside of marriage.

g. Engaging in or supporting transvestitism, transgenderism, or sex reassignment.

h. Membership in any organization that is anti-Catholic or whose philosophy is in any way contrary to the ethical or moral teachings of the Roman Catholic Church.

i. Indecent or lewd behavior (including, but not limited to, the unlawful use of drugs, substance abuse, or use of pornography).

j. Serious dishonesty.

k. Entering into a marriage with a person when one of the parties to the marriage is validly married to another person in the eyes of the Roman Catholic Church (e.g., entering into a marriage if one of the parties has entered into marriage previously and has not received an annulment from the Roman Catholic Church).

l. Use of social media or electronic means of communication (e.g., email and texting) in an improper, immoral, or scandalous manner (including, but not limited to, use of social media or electronic means to communicate, post, share, or send material that is lewd, indecent, sexually suggestive, or pornographic).
m. Any other actions or speech that are considered by the Roman Catholic Church to be immoral or evil or which might cause scandal, as such terms is understood by the Roman Catholic Church (i.e., and attitude or behavior which leads or tempts another to do that which the Roman Catholic Church considers evil or immoral).

Diocese of Colorado Springs (Policy)

PROFESSIONAL BEHAVIOR. Teachers in the Diocese of Colorado Springs have been placed in a position of trust and as such are expected to maintain professional relationships at all times with their students, parents and other staff both in and out of school, including vacation periods. By virtue of their position in the community, all teachers, principals and directors have an obligation to maintain Catholic, professional decorum at all times.

Diocese of Columbus (Policy)

ADHERENCE TO CHURCH TEACHINGS: All school personnel who serve in Catholic schools shall be examples of Catholic moral behavior and professionalism. As explained by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops: The integration of religious truth and values with the rest of life is brought about in the Catholic school not only by its unique curriculum but, more important, by the presence of teachers [personnel] who express an integrated approach to learning and living in their private and professional lives. All school personnel, regardless of their religious affiliation, are therefore required to abide by the moral valued advanced by the teachings of Christ, the tenants of the Catholic Church, and the policies and regulations of the Diocesan Department of Education, the Diocese and the employing school. School personnel may be disciplined or terminated for violations of these standards, or any conduct which is contrary to, or requests or offends the teachings, doctrines, or principles of the Catholic Church. While there may be others not mentioned below, examples of conduct that may result in termination of employment include: Public support of activities or beliefs contrary to Catholic Church teaching; Public statements disparaging or causing contempt against religion in general or the Catholic Church in particular; Entry into a marriage which is not recognized by the Catholic Church; Having an abortion or publically supporting abortion rights; Sexual relation (same or opposite sex) outside the institution of marriage as recognized by the Catholic Church; Pursuing or publically supporting in vitro fertilization.

(See also Teacher/Minister Contracts and Language)

A. Ministerial Duties/Morals Clauses

1. To teach in a Catholic school is to accept a ministry. The teaching ministry must clearly reflect the Catholic Christian spirit of love, understanding and humility. This ministry is witnessed not only in the manner in which the teacher performs his/her task of teaching, but also in the example the teacher sets for the students both in and outside the classroom. This witness extends beyond the teacher’s individual classroom to include everyone associated with the school, parish, and diocese.

2. Because the teaching ministry is exercised in the context of the Catholic Church, it is hierarchical in nature. Respect for the authority and earnest cooperation with the principal and administration of the school are essential. Therefore, the teacher understands, accepts, and agrees to maintain at all times, the proper Catholic Christian attitude and spirit of cooperation as an essential element of complying with the terms of this contract.

3. Furthermore, in carrying out his/her duties under this agreement, the teacher agrees to faithfully reflect the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church, in mind and in deed, and at all times, both in and out of school, to abide by the official teachings of the church, as interpreted by the Bishop of the Diocese of Gary. Teacher understands that Catholic theology is part of every subject taught in the school and that part of teacher’s ministry in the school is to apply the theological doctrine and teachings of the Catholic Church. Failure to comply may result in the immediate termination of this contract. …

5. Termination of Contract.

A) The School may terminate this contract for reasons including, but not limited to, the following: Failure to abide by the terms of Part A “Ministerial Duties/Morals Clauses” above… The determination that the teacher is involved in an offensive behavior or has taken a public position against any of the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church... In the case of members of a religious congregation this contract shall be considered terminated if the herein named teacher ceases to function as a member of that religious congregation.

The Teacher/Minister hereby accepts the terms of this Contract and the accompanying job description and agrees to perform the services required of the School and will assist the School in carrying out its Catholic educational ministry and policies during the entire term of this Contract. The Teacher/Minister recognizes and accepts the fact that the School is an apostolate of the sponsoring Parish; that every teacher in the School is a minister in that apostolate, and that contracting to teach in a Catholic School implies understanding its special mission and orientation. Accordingly, the Teacher/Minister agrees to conduct him/herself personally and professionally so as to reflect plainly and consistently the values, ministerial, and operational principles of the Parish/School, the Diocese of Gaylord, and the Universal Church. The Teacher/Minister also recognizes and acknowledges the fact that there is within the Catholic Church a body of officially taught and commonly accepted beliefs, the communication of which is a fundamental purpose and mission of a Catholic School and that its students have a right to expect such communication implicitly and explicitly from its teachers regardless of the subject areas, grades, or courses being taught, and the Teacher/Minister agrees not to make any communications to students that in any way contradict or reject those teachings or commonly held beliefs. The Teacher/Minister further understands and agrees that it is her or his duty to teach/administer and live in accord with what the Catholic Church holds and professes, and agrees to loyally observe the general rules and regulations applicable to those who minister in Catholic Schools in the Diocese of Gaylord as well as such special regulations or decrees as have been fixed and promulgated by the Parish, School or Ordinary of the Diocese of Gaylord.

Teachers and principals hired to serve in our Catholic schools are expected to be Catholics in good standing and endowed with a Catholic philosophy.

The distinctive and unique purpose of the Catholic schools is to create a Christian educational community that is enlivened by a shared faith among administrator(s), students and parents. The teachers and principals employed in the schools of the Diocese must have knowledge of and a respect for the Catholic faith and a commitment to Christian living. Further, all teachers and principals are expected to spread the Catholic faith and supervise/participate in religious ritual and worship in propagation of that faith, including the observance and conduct of liturgy. As such, teachers and principals employed occupy a position and share duties of religious significance that is connected and important to the Diocesan doctrinal mission.

upon to be a good example for the students. By teaching and example, the Professional Employee guides the students to the heart of total Truth.

The Professional employee is expected to conduct himself or herself in accordance with the accepted code of morality and professional ethics for a teacher in a Catholic school and to avoid any embarrassment to the individual school or the diocese.

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR CATHOLIC SCHOOL EDUCATORS. ‘The nobility of the task to which teachers are called demands that, in imitation of Christ, the only Teacher, they reveal the Christian message not only by word but also by every gesture of their behavior.’"63 Commitment to the student - ‘Students should be able to recognize authentic human qualities in their teachers. They are teachers of the faith; however, like Christ, they must also be teachers of what it means to be human. This includes culture, but it also includes such things as affection, tact, understanding, serenity of spirit, a balanced judgment, patience in listening to others and prudence in the way they respond and finally, availability for personal meetings and conversations with students. A teacher who has a clear vision of the Christian milieu and lives in accord with it will be able to help young people develop a similar vision, and will give them the inspiration they need to put it into practice.”64

LIFESTYLE POLICY FOR CATHOLIC SCHOOL EDUCATORS

All Catholics in the education ministry in the Diocese of Pueblo must be in good standing with the Catholic Church and be aware that support of Church teachings must be reflected in their public behavior. Non-Catholics who teach in Catholic schools, although they do not necessarily have a commitment to Catholicism, must uphold in their teaching and lifestyle basic Catholic teachings and practices, so as not to misdirect their students.

To take a position directly contrary to the Church's teaching — whether by lifestyle or speaking publicly against Church teachings — has serious consequences, in view of the impact made on the students by the teacher. Should any situation arise that is contrary to or at variance with this diocesan policy, a pastoral approach will be taken to insure the best possible benefit to the children, and to foster the spiritual well-being of the individual in question. However, all educators employed by the school or the parish should be aware that words, conduct or action contrary to or at variance with this policy may result in discipline, including but not limited to termination.

Certain specific acts which violate the spirit of the Gospels and the Church's teachings and which may lead to discipline and/or termination include:

4. Obtaining or assisting another to obtain an abortion.

5. Actively engaging in homosexual activity.

6. Immoral or dishonest conduct impairing one's effectiveness as a teacher.

7. Becoming pregnant, out of wedlock, while teaching/working in a Catholic school.

8. Membership in any organization which is anti-Catholic, and whose philosophy is racist and/or any way contrary to the Church's teaching on social justice.

9. Engaging in any activity, immoral or illegal, which would show bad example to the students (e.g. illicit use of drugs, alcohol abuse, pornography, indecent behavior or abuse of any kind).

10. Maintaining by word or action a position contrary to the teaching standard, doctrines, laws and norms of the Catholic Church.

The foregoing is not an exhaustive list. The school or the parish reserves the right to make a determination in each case whether or not an educator's actions or lifestyle violate the moral or religious doctrines or teachings of the Roman Catholic Church.

Some dioceses have attached this policy to the employment contract, included the policy in the employment contract, or inserted the policy into the teacher's job description. A sample is included in Appendix F.

WITNESS STATEMENT …Catholic education, which includes education, formation and transformation, exists in order to evangelize. Two important elements that make up the process of evangelization are proclamation and witness… But all who serve in Catholic education are called to be witnesses to the life and teachings of Jesus Christ and the Catholic Church. Therefore, the following Witness Statement applies to all who serve in Catholic education.

All who serve in Catholic education in the school programs of the Catholic Diocese of Peoria will witness by their public behavior, actions and words, a life consistent with the teachings of the Catholic Church. Only those persons who can support this Witness Statement are to be employed by pastors and principals in the Catholic Diocese of Peoria. All who serve in Catholic education in the Catholic Diocese of St. Louis should be made aware that support of this Witness Statement must be reflected in their public behavior.

All who serve in Catholic education should: Believe in God; Support belief in Jesus Christ; Engage in prayer; Respect ecclesiastical authority; Possess a knowledge of the Catholic Church; Not take a position contrary to the Catholic Church; Demonstrate a life consistent with the teachings of the Catholic Church; If Catholic, have not rejected the Catholic Church; Be active members of the Catholic Church, or of their own church if not Catholic.

Diocese of Salt Lake City\textsuperscript{101} (Religious Qualifications)

Because the distinct purpose of the Catholic school is "to create a Christian educational community where knowledge is enlightened and enlivened by faith", teachers employed in the diocesan school system should:

1. Be practicing Catholics who have knowledge of the Catholic faith adequate to teach its content.
2. Live and model the principles and moral values which are part of Catholic school curriculum.
3. Understand and be dedicated to the ministry of Catholic education.

EXCEPTION: If a Catholic teacher is not available, or when deemed otherwise appropriate, a non-Catholic may be employed. Teachers of other faiths can make valuable contributions as members of the teaching staff.

1. An exception may be made by the superintendent with the advice of the principal.
2. They may be hired on the condition that they understand and are fully committed to the distinctive purpose, philosophy, and spirit of Catholic school education.
3. Non-Catholic teachers should live within the Catholic spirit and teachings regarding lifestyle.
4. A non-Catholic may not teach a Catholic religion class.

The Archdiocese of San Francisco is proposing three new clauses to the contracts for the teachers in the Archdiocesan high schools. The purpose is to further clarify that Catholic schools—as the first clause states—“exist to affirm and proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ as held and taught by his Catholic Church.” The Archdiocese is also adding detailed statements of Catholic teaching on sexual morality and religious practice—taken from the Catechism of the Catholic Church—into the faculty and staff handbooks…

The teacher agrees to respect Catholic values and to aid students in Christian formation by exemplifying Catholic living, both in and out of the classroom. Catholic schools educate their pupils to promote efficiently the good of the earthly city, and prepare them for the service of spreading the kingdom of God, so that by the exercise of an exemplary and apostolic life they may become, as it were, the saving leaven of human society. Bound by love to each other and to their pupils and imbued with the apostolic spirit, administrators and teachers bear witness by their life and teaching to the one teacher Christ (Gravissimum Educationis 8). This is the spirit that characterizes the covenantal relationship between the employer and the employee in the Catholic School. The following items of agreement are meant to give specific delineation to certain aspects of the relationship.

This covenant may also be terminated if the teacher’s life-style is incompatible with Catholic moral values or if his/her conduct is at variance with Catholic teaching.

4111.7. CATHOLIC CHURCH TEACHINGS. All Catholic school employees are expected to respect, support, and publicly model the traditions and practices of the Roman Catholic Church.

Diocese of Springfield IL\(^{112}\) (Policy)

For catechesis to be effective, the catechist must be fully committed to Jesus Christ. Faith must be shared with conviction, joy, love, enthusiasm and hope. “The summit and center of catechetical formation lies in an aptitude and ability to communicate the Gospel message.”3 This is possible only when the catechist believes in the Gospel and its power to transform lives. To give witness to the Gospel, the catechist must establish a living, ever-deepening relationship with the Lord. He or she must be a person of prayer, one who frequently reflects on the scriptures and whose Christ-like living testifies to deep faith.

Only men and women of faith can share faith with others, preparing the setting so that people can respond in faith to God’s grace.

The fulfillment of the unique goals of Catholic education rests largely in the hands of the catechists. The beliefs and values of each person, exemplified through his/her professional and private lives, play an essential part in the educational process. It is important, therefore, that all engaged in the catechetical ministry of the diocese give assurance that they understand what it means to be a catechist in the catechetical mission of the Church. This section sets policy for all individuals ministering within the diocese in any of the programs listed in Policy §1101. (NB: See section 1101: Includes personnel in Catholic schools)

IV. Handbook-Based Policies

Archdiocese of Kansas City\textsuperscript{126} (Handbook)

After a discussion of the qualities of a Catholic school, Archbishop Joseph Naumann inserts a letter to his “Co-Workers in Catholic Education”. Within the letter the Archbishop describes the mission of Catholic education as emanating from Jesus Christ and states that teacher have a “special ministry” a “vocation” in the Catholic school. He states, “You are ‘called’ and ‘sent’ by Jesus, through the Church, as were the apostles. You are, as the apostles, privileged to teach and to lead. You bear witness to the TRUTH; you bring LIFE, as Jesus did.” He concludes, “May you find great joy and peace in being a ‘co-worker’ with Jesus and the Church in your vocation of providing Catholic education for our youth and young people.”

Qualifications and Expectations for Teachers. Teachers have a special calling to personal holiness and apostolic mission. They reveal the message of Christ not only by word but also by every action of their lives. It is important, therefore, that teachers understand that first and foremost they are catechists, regardless of their teaching assignment. To fulfill this religious ministry, the Catholic school teacher must be a person of faith; he/she must be one who believes in God and strives to live a life of virtue, following the example of Jesus Christ and the teachings of the Church*. A Catholic school teacher cannot personally be a part of a group or organization that advocates for activities that are contrary to the moral teaching of the Catholic Church*. Except under extreme and unusual circumstances, all teachers should be practicing Roman Catholics. As such they should be active in their parishes with respect to time, talent and treasure.

All teachers in Catholic schools must be able to accept and convey both the religious and educational goals of the Catholic school and to give service in accord with the Sacred Scriptures and teachings of the Church*. They must model Christian behaviors and attitudes; display professional attitudes and a dedication to Church teaching; participate in ongoing spiritual and professional formation; use instructional strategies that are most effective in promoting mastery learning; communicate effectively with students, parents/guardians, teachers and administrators; present content using a variety of methods that are sensitive to the individual needs of our students as well as the Archdiocesan curriculum outcomes; and maintain a classroom conducive to learning.

Faith Development. As a component of this faith formation, teachers shall participate in the school-provided review of Catholic Church teachings that are described in the Catechism of the Catholic Church and various documents from the Vatican and United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, including but not limited to, Church teachings related to the dignity of life from conception to natural death, sanctity of marriage, and the beauty of chastity. Specific Church teachings related to abortion, InVitro Fertilization, sterilization, contraception, homosexual lifestyle, marriage, and chastity, as well as Church teachings regarding social issues such as racism, care for the poor, religious liberty, and sharing of goods shall be included in this review.

Qualities of Catholic School Educators. We set forth here the qualities and attitudes which should be a part of the life style of all Catholic School educators. These characteristics should stimulate all who are involved in the educational ministry to integrate religious truths and values as they strive to develop the full intellectual, religious, social, physical and emotional potential of each student. The Catholic school educator is a person of faith: Who reflects the Gospel message and professes that message in action and personal attitudes: Whose own prayer life is ‘living, conscious and active’; Who is truly committed to and enthusiastic about being part of Catholic education and, therefore, constantly strives toward excellence in teaching and in dedication to the Catholic School system; Who makes students aware of the need to be ministers of the faith as they grow into adulthood as lay persons, as priests, or members of the religion; Who accepts and supports the faith community not only as a concept to be taught but a reality to be lived. The Catholic school educator is a person who builds community: Who works to form a strong community with understanding, cooperation and support among faculty, students and parents: Who promotes social justice and peace in the school and the local community; Who is aware of the human worth and dignity of students and so maintains a classroom and school where the environment is conducive to the growth and development of students; and who helps to develop student potential for Christian leadership within the parish, school and the civic community. The Catholic School educator is a person who serves: Who is generous and unselfish in responding to the needs of the administrators, faculty, parents, students and the Church; Who strives to create ways for students to help each other in all school activities; Who fosters apostolic consciousness and commitment in himself/herself and in students, helping them to be aware of the need to be active and concerned about others in their family, in their community and in their parishes; Who helps students develop skills necessary for adjusting in a changing world and society; Who instills in students those human values necessary to community-trust, freedom and fairness.

Philosophy and Principles. Each Catholic School Teacher and Administrator shall treat students, parents, and colleagues in a manner consistent with the Gospel message and the Catholic Church’s teaching. Each Teacher and Administrator is also expected to be familiar with the philosophy and principles set forth in the below-listed documents, which set forth the Church’s philosophy and teachings regarding Catholic education and the essential convictions and commitments of Catholic educators:

V. Description of Teachers as “Ministers” and Ministry Clauses

Diocese of Boise128 (Human Resource Handbook)

Because the parish/school is a church employer, the job description should also recognize that there is not simply a “job” function to the particular position, but also a “mission” to the ministry performed, and this mission should be consistent with the vision of the ministry provided. Even clerical and administrative positions are a ministry contributing to the overall well-being of the parish’s/school/s overall mission. The descriptions should be written with this thought in mind, and, if possible, articulate the position’s relationship to the overall ministry of the parish.

A. CONTRACTS, AGREEMENTS AND COMPENSATION

1. A Covenant Relationship.

The contract/agreement in the educational system of the Diocese of Davenport established a covenant relationship for a definite period between the individual employee and the Catholic educational community. It documents a call and a commissioning to share in the educational mission of proclaiming the Good News to all of creation. The contract is an agreement between the board of education and the employee. It specifies the nature of the services to the Catholic community intended by the board in exchange for a specified compensation. In addition to the terms of employment usually contained in contracts specifying accountabilities and compensation for same, the contract should say in a simple way the expectations with regard to our Catholic beliefs, attitudes, and behavior. It is desirable that the contract affirm that all parties concerned are to endeavor to live ideals of Catholic life including the building of Catholic community and the fostering of social justice. For boards and administrators, social justice includes such things as a just wage, fairness in decision making, the treatment of employees with dignity and respect. For employees it means “a day’s work for a day’s pay.” It means living not only the letter but the spirit of the goals and ideals of the Catholic educational program.

THIS EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT is made and entered into this ____ day of _____________, 2015, in ________________, Indiana by and between __________________________________________ (hereinafter called “school”), and __________________________________________, (hereinafter called “teacher”). The School and teacher agree as follows:

A. Ministerial Duties/Morals Clauses

1. To teach in a Catholic school is to accept a ministry. The teaching ministry must clearly reflect the Catholic Christian spirit of love, understanding and humility. This ministry is witnessed not only in the manner in which the teacher performs his/her task of teaching, but also in the example the teacher sets for the students both in and outside the classroom. This witness extends beyond the teacher’s individual classroom to include everyone associated with the school, parish, and diocese.

2. Because the teaching ministry is exercised in the context of the Catholic Church, it is hierarchical in nature. Respect for the authority and earnest cooperation with the principal and administration of the school are essential. Therefore, the teacher understands, accepts, and agrees to maintain at all times, the proper Catholic Christian attitude and spirit of cooperation as an essential element of complying with the terms of this contract.

3. Furthermore, in carrying out his/her duties under this agreement, the teacher agrees to faithfully reflect the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church, in mind and in deed, and at all times, both in and out of school, to abide by the official teachings of the church, as interpreted by the Bishop of the Diocese of Gary. Teacher understands that Catholic theology is part of every subject taught in the school and that part of teacher’s ministry in the school is to apply the theological doctrine and teachings of the Catholic Church. Failure to comply may result in the immediate termination of this contract...

5. Termination of Contract. This contract is a contract for employment at-will and may be terminated by the teacher, the pastor of the parish, the principal of the school, and/or the Superintendent of Catholic Schools (hereinafter called “Superintendent”), at any time, for any reason.

a) The School may terminate this contract for reasons including, but not limited to, the following:

- Failure to abide by the terms of Part A “Ministerial Duties/Morals Clauses” above.

- A shift of enrollment which eliminated the need for employing the teacher.

- The determination that the teacher has not competently fulfilled his/her teaching duties.

- The determination that the teacher is involved in an offensive behavior or has taken a public position against any of the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church.

- The determination that the teacher is unable to perform his/her duties in the classroom.

- In the case of members of a religious congregation this contract shall be considered terminated if the herein named teacher ceases to function as a member of that religious congregation.

- For any other justifiable cause.
Diocese of Gaylord\textsuperscript{131} (Parish Ministry Contract-Parochial School Teacher Revised 5/14)

This PARISH MINISTRY CONTRACT made this _____ of, by and between Parish of ________, (hereinafter referred to as “Parish”), and ________, (hereinafter referred to as “Teacher/Minister”).

WITNESSETH:

The Parish hereby agrees to hire the above-named Teacher/Minister to engage in educational ministry in School (hereinafter referred to as “School”) for one (1) school year beginning _____, 20__ and ending _____, 20__. The Teacher/Minister needs to be present in school from _____, 20__ to _____, 20__. This Employment Contract is not automatically renewable. The School will pay the Teacher/Minister an annual salary of $_____________, in equal installments, payable (time of payment - i.e. biweekly), and subject to payroll deductions required by law and other deductions authorized by the Teacher/Minister. Any additional benefits will be set forth in a supplement and attached to this Contract.

The Teacher/Minister hereby accepts the terms of this Contract and the accompanying job description and agrees to perform the services required of the School and will assist the School in carrying out its Catholic educational ministry and policies during the entire term of this Contract. The Teacher/Minister recognizes and accepts the fact that the School is an apostolate of the sponsoring Parish; that every teacher in the School is a minister in that apostolate, and that contracting to teach in a Catholic School implies understanding its special mission and orientation. Accordingly, the Teacher/Minister agrees to conduct him/herself personally and professionally so as to reflect plainly and consistently the values, ministerial, and operational principles of the Parish/School, the Diocese of Gaylord, and the Universal Church. The Teacher/Minister also recognizes and acknowledges the fact that there is within the Catholic Church a body of officially taught and commonly accepted beliefs, the communication of which is a fundamental purpose and mission of a Catholic School and that its students have a right to expect such communication implicitly and explicitly from its teachers regardless of the subject areas, grades, or courses being taught, and the Teacher/Minister agrees not to make any communications to students that in any way contradict or reject those teachings or commonly held beliefs. The Teacher/Minister further understands and agrees that it is her or his duty to teach/administer and live in accord with what the Catholic Church holds and professes, and agrees to loyally observe the general rules and regulations applicable to those who minister in Catholic Schools in the Diocese of Gaylord as well as such special regulations or decrees as have been fixed and promulgated by the Parish, School or Ordinary of the Diocese of Gaylord. This Contract takes the place of and supersedes any and all prior existing contracts between the parties to this Contract.

The Teacher/Minister represents that all information submitted in any application materials is truthful and accurate and he/she holds all necessary certificates and other qualifications required by law.

It is mutually agreed between the parties hereto that this Contract shall terminate upon expiration of the School year term herein contracted for. Nothing in this Contract may be construed as a promise of employment after the end date. Nothing in this Contract may be construed as a promise of tenure. An offer to renew this Contract with the same or similar terms may be made at the end of the employment period at the sole discretion of the Principal and Pastor.

Within the school year, this Contract may be terminated for any one of the following reasons:

A. Uncertain financial conditions within the School or Diocese;

B. Complete or partial closing of a Teacher’s department, office or position;

C. Unwillingness of a Teacher to abide by the policies, procedures and rules of the School, Parish or Diocese;

D. Work performance that does not manifest competency or the fulfillment of basic expectations and requirements of the position;

E. Excessive use of sick leave;

F. Inability to work within the basic philosophy, goals and purposes of the School, Parish and Diocese of Gaylord;

G. Chronic tardiness, chronic/problematic substance abuse, professional or criminal violations;

H. Insubordination, intimidation, or failure to follow instructions of superiors;

I. Misrepresentations in a Teacher’s application, resume, evaluations, or work records or reports;

J. Personal practices; malpractice; unethical practice; conflicts with fellow workers or attitudes or behaviors within or without the work place which are contrary to the teachings and doctrinal practices of the Catholic Church, or affect the morale, job performance or rights of other workers or reflect negatively upon the Parish, School or Diocese or colleagues; or lessen respect for lawful authority in the Church at the parish, diocesan or universal levels, or conflict with the mission of the sponsoring parish.

K. By mutual consent at any time;

L. The teacher may resign at any time by submitting at least fifteen (15) days written notice to the Principal of the School.
The foregoing items for which the School may determine that a Teacher/Minister’s services shall be terminated are not complete or exclusive of other reasons not articulated here. There may be other conduct or circumstances which would cause the School to determine that a Teacher/Minister’s services are no longer required or desired. The Teacher/Minister agrees that, in the event of termination of this Contract, he/she shall not be entitled to any compensation from and after the date of such termination. The amount of compensation shall be determined on a pro rata basis based on the date of termination.

During the Contract term, the Teacher/Minister has the right to present to principal and/or pastor any matter of personal concern or dissatisfaction regarding their employment or dismissal. After all informal efforts to resolve the issue have proved ineffective the complaint will be handled according to the formal complaint policy as listed in the Diocesan Employee Manual. Non-renewal of the contract is not a matter of formal complaint.

Teachers understand that they are ministerial employees subject to a morals clause requiring them to live in accordance with Catholic teachings, inside and outside the classroom, regardless of their own personal faith.

Archdiocese of Seattle\(^{133}\) (Standardized Teacher Ministerial Covenant)

Be the shepherds of the flock God gave you, and look after it willingly as God would want you to, and not unwillingly. Do not work for mere pay but from a real desire to serve. Do not try to rule over those who have been given into your care, but be examples to the flock (1Peter 5:2-3).

The teacher agrees to respect Catholic values and to aid students in Christian formation by exemplifying Catholic living, both in and out of the classroom. Catholic schools educate their pupils to promote efficiently the good of the earthly city, and prepare them for the service of spreading the kingdom of God, so that by the exercise of an exemplary and apostolic life they may become, as it were, the saving leaven of human society. Bound by love to each other and to their pupils and imbued with the apostolic spirit, administrators and teachers bear witness by their life and teaching to the one teacher Christ (Gravissimum Educationis, 8).

This is the spirit that characterizes the covenantal relationship between the employer and the employee on the Catholic School.

The following items of agreement are meant to give specific delineation to certain aspects of the relationship. This covenant is entered into this day of ____, for the academic year 20____- 20____ beginning September 1, 20___ and concluding August 31, 20___ by and between, hereinafter referred to as “teacher” and , hereinafter referred to as “employer”...

9. The teacher agrees to comply with all terms of this covenant; demonstrate general competency; perform the duties incumbent upon him/her as a teacher and give professional evidence of effective teaching.

This covenant may also be terminated if the teacher’s life-style is incompatible with Catholic moral values or if his/her conduct is at variance with Catholic teaching.

VI. Safe Environment Documents

Diocese of Amarillo134 (Code of Conduct excerpt)

As leaders in the Church founded by Christ, those who minister within our parishes and institutions must always seek to uphold Christian values and conduct. In addition to following the Gospel and its mandates, they will want to act properly at all times in the light of contemporary society and its needs.

Diocese of Beaumont135 (Ethical and Responsible Conduct Policies)

ETHICAL AND RESPONSIBLE CONDUCT POLICIES: Basic ethical and moral standards. This policy establishes basic standards of ethical and moral conduct for all church personnel associated with the Diocese of Beaumont. Fundamental to our mission is the personal integrity and the highest ethical standards of all those who represent the diocese. The intent of this policy is to insure that all personnel follow the traditional strong moral and ethical standards of the Catholic Church. Church personnel enjoy a public trust and confidence. It is essential that they view their own actions and intentions objectively to assure that no observer would have grounds to believe that any irregularity in conduct exists. All church personnel have a responsibility to uphold the standards of the Catholic Church in their day-to-day work and personal lives. These include, but are not limited to:

Prohibited Conduct: All church personnel are to exhibit the highest ethical standards and personal integrity, therefore church personnel should not engage in the following:
- Formally rejecting the teachings of the Catholic Church or the Christian way of life;
- Exhibiting actions that are disruptive to the ministry and public worship;
- Procuring or participating in abortion, homicide, or euthanasia;
- Engaging in behavior contrary to the moral teachings of the Catholic Church;
- Adultery, promiscuity, illicit co-habitation…

Diocese of Wilmington136 (Safe Environment Principles)

PRINCIPLES. These Standards are based on three principles of integrity found in all effective ministerial leaders. Principle one is reflective of a basic understanding of self, especially in respect to one’s spiritual vocation. Principle two, reflecting the Lord’s command to love neighbor as self calls for a deep sensitivity and respect for others.

135 https://dioceseofbmt.org/safeenvironment/content/EthicalConduct.pdf
Principle three, addresses the responsibility for balanced ministerial relationships. All trust-based relationships depend on each individual’s ability to balance these two principles of self-knowledge and a keen regard for others. In ministerial relationships, this burden always falls on the minister, the individual being sought for service, help and advice. Nearly all breaches of integrity and morality are ruptures of this trust-based relationship.

1. Church Personnel will exhibit the highest Christian ethical Standards and personal integrity reflective of the teachings of the Gospel. Church Personnel will at all times conduct themselves in a professional manner including developing and maintaining the level of professional competence commensurate with their ministerial duties.

2. Church Personnel will witness God’s love showing sensitivity to, reverence and respect for each individual with and to whom they minister.

3. Church Personnel will be conscious of the unique power they have in relationships due to the trust they are given and the visibility of their witness and leadership.

a. Church Personnel assume the full burden for setting and maintaining clear, appropriate physical and emotional boundaries in all ministerial relationships.

b. Church Personnel will avoid taking unfair advantage of ministerial relationships for the benefit of themselves or others.

c. Church Personnel will not physically, sexually or emotionally abuse or neglect any person.

d. Church Personnel have a duty to report their own ethical and professional misconduct and the misconduct of others.
